

403442 Evaluation of Information Systems

[3 cr., 3, 0] This module is used to increase the performance of information system through the following concepts: evaluations process, systems analysis techniques, development and use of performance measures, strategies for improving system performance.

