

503212 Purchasing & Warehousing Management

[3 cr., 3, 0] The course introduces the student to the purchasing & warehousing roles of the business enterprise, different types of purchasing & warehousing control systems, the basics of purchasing & warehousing systems, examination of the environmental factors & the organizational characteristics that impact purchasing & warehousing and develop an understanding of how these factors are incorporated into strategic decision making, the reasons why companies are shifting from storage washhouses to distribution centers in their plans of physical distribution.