

506352 Information Technology in Business

[3 cr., 3, 0] To provide the students with an understanding of the current issues in the information technology in business. Information technology's relationship to business competition and strategy, the business value of information systems, the use of computer systems to achieve strategic advantage, to support managerial decision - making, to process organizational transactions, to achieve operational control, and to augment personal communications, information resource management, and the organizational, social, legal, and the ethical, issues from information systems.