

506491 Training

[3 cr., 0, 6 weeks] The course aims to develop the skills of students in information theory and its application in a practical and scientific way through practical training in public and private institutions to gain experience and practical skills are need to refine his/her talent and knowledge .

