

506492 Graduation Project

[3 cr., -, -]

This course provides students with the first attempt to work independently in their respective fields, reflecting on the academic skills previously acquired through conducting a scientific research paper and defending it front of committee of instructors in order to pass.

