

702311 Internal Medicine for Dental Students

[2 cr., 2, 0] Covers theories and basic principles of internal medicine as applied to the organ systems and approaches to management of patients with common system diseases.

Basic and current concepts in dental management of ambulatory patient with compromised medical systems; diagnosis and management of common dental office emergencies.

